

9 (2014)

Requires the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR) and the Office of the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges to enter into an interagency agreement to expand access to community college courses that lead to degrees or certificates that result in enhanced workforce skills or transfer to a 4-year university.

(2015)

Incentivized inmates to "take responsibility for their own rehabilitation with credit-earning opportunities for good behavior, as well as in-prison program and activities participation."

Additional Benefits to Inmates/Community:

Changes the student's trajectory as well as his/her family's by creating a college-going culture

Reduces violence in facilities

Inmates are more likely to find employment upon release

Critical when the state estimates a 1.1 million gap in workers with a bachelor's degree by 2030
