Dr. Layheng Ting pointed out that the Skills Builder in Slide 12 (shown below), a report mandated by the Chancellor's Office, indicated a 3% outcome/advantage to increased income without being a full-time student. What attributed to the 3% change is unknown but a good sign.

Dr. Ting went on to say that the Joint Public Authority (JPA) compared Hartnell College to other colleges for the 1st time. There were 6 peers in a comparison group of 16.

Co-chair Glazier indicated she like the idea of reducing the number of participants as she found it more difficult to collaborate in a larger group. Dr. Lofman reminded all that the original intent of non-voting members was to help support the discussion. The replies to the evaluation were read aloud to all and discussed. A lengthy discussion ensued regarding the topics covered at the IEC meeting and it was asked if we were duplicating agenda items with other councils.

ADDENDUM: May 22, 2017:

On May 22, 2017 the following email was sent to all members of the IEC council:

Greetings Dear Members of the Institutional Effectiveness Council:

I am writing to inform you about changes in the Hartnell College governance system that will be implemented at the start of the 2017-18 year as approved by the CPC at its 5/17/17 meeting, and as they impact both the CPC and IEC.

Key responsibilities of the IEC have now been incorporated into a streamlined set of responsibilities for the CPC, such that the CPC will become more fundamentally a planning council that will tackle the system of responsibilities from institutional purpose and goal-setting, to strategic planning, resource allocation, and institutional effectiveness. Attached please find the Purpose and Rationale underlying the aforementioned changes.
