

Hartnell College received a small Hunger Free Campus support allocation to serve students who are experiencing moderate to high levels of food insecurity. The goal of the program is to provide students with life skills that will enable them to learn and maintain a healthy food sustenance lifestyle including: weekly food distribution, information on healthy eating habits, recipes, food preparation demos and exercise.

Vegetables, fruit and protein to prepare three meals for 100 students every week.

A Pop-Up Pantry Coordinator will oversee the Hunger Free Campus Support project including:

- a. Host weekly pop-up pantries to serve 75-100 students throughout the fall and spring semesters, approximately 25 pop-up pantries.
- b. Conduct a comprehensive inventory of on and off campus food distribution services and resources.
